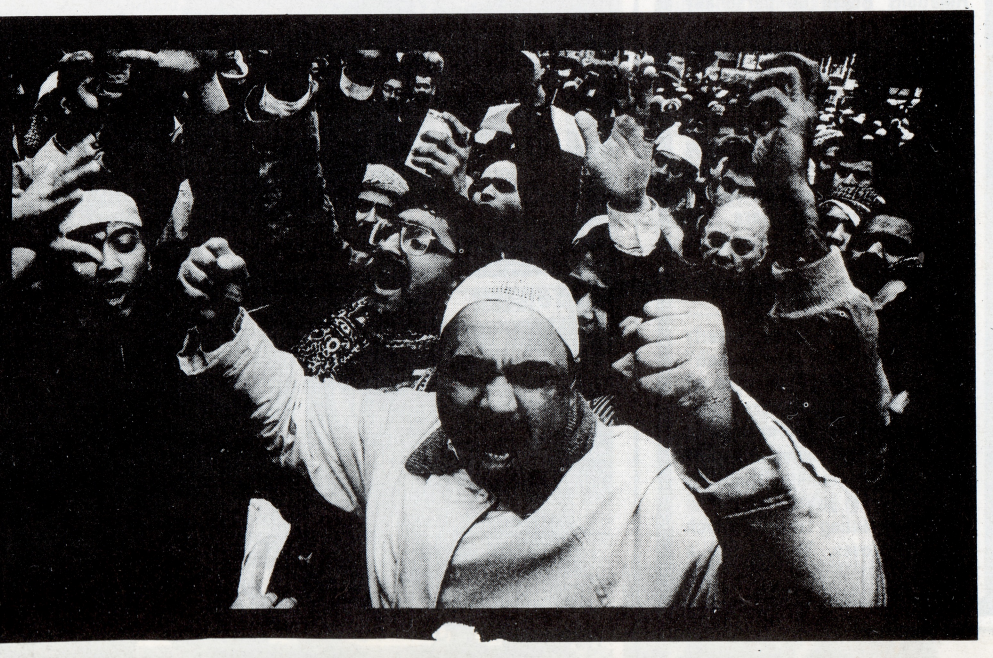
Truth Exposed

"They're as British as you and me" say the multi-racialists.

But Steve Brady reveals the truth exposed by the Salman Rushdie affair.



ALIEN

TO BRITAIN & THE BRITISH PEOPLE

APPEASING THE BOOK-BURNERS

THE 'SATANIC VERSES' ROW HAS exposed some interesting ironies in its wake. It is ironic, for example, that Salmon Rushdie, for years one of Britain's leading advocates of multiracialism, should now be hiding in fear for his life from a substantial slice of the "exciting ethnic diversity" of the multiracial Britain he so long championed.

It is ironic that multiracialism, which was supposed to bring "tolerance" to our society, has instead imported a degree of fanatical intolerance and sectarian bigotry to our streets on a scale not seen here since the Middle Ages. It is ironic that the Pakistani "New Britons" who were supposed to blend into the new multi-ethnic melting pot should instead be led in their thoroughly un-British public book-burning by an Immigrant "community leader", Imam Maulana Lutfar Rahman, who despite having lived in Bradford since 1966 has yet to learn to speak a work of English.

It is ironic that Labour MP's like Brian Sedgemore, Max Madden and Bernie Grant, who fiercely opposed the banning of a book, Spycatcher, which offended many patriotic Britons, now equally fiercely demand the banning of a book which offends Immigrants. Where now is their "commitment to free speech?"

And it is ironic that, whilst the opponents of Coloured Immigration have for years been denounced as "Nazis", it was the Coloured Immigrants themselves who brought to the streets of Britain that public rite of book-burning which is generally seen as the hallmark of the Nazi.

• Sedgemore: Wants it banned

The Salman Rushdie saga may yet serve a useful purpose if it focuses attention upon the true nature of Islam and the threat it poses to us all. For it is not just a funny foreign religion, relevant only in that over a million of its devotees have unfortunately been imported to our shores. It is an internationalist, multiracialist ideology and political programme comparable to Marxism.

Like Marxism, Islam seeks temporal, not spiritual, power, a kingdom very much of this world. A kingdom which already encompasses a thousand million loyal subjects, from Central Asia and Indonesia to West and even South Africa. Unlike Marxism, or Capitalism for that matter, Islam not only wants to destroy national and racial identities, over the vast heartland of its dominion - it has long succeeded in doing so.

From the Persian Gulf to the Atlantic, hundreds of millions of brown-skinned race-mixed clones have forgotten the speech and culture of their ancestors and have become "Arabs". Egyptian, Syrian, Babylonian, lost

Nothing To Do With Britain

'SATANIC VERSES' is a book written by one Asian which has seriously annoyed a lot of other Asians, and no few North Africans, come to that. Imams have ranted against it in mosques from Calcutta to Casablanca The mad mullah ruling Iran has unleashed his howling dervishes seeking the blood of the "blasphemer".

As is their usual mode of political debate, lots of Asians have rioted and killed one another in the bizarre bazaars of the Indian sub-continent. None of which should have anything whatsoever to do with us here in Britain.

Unfortunately it has. Because the Asian author, Salman Rushdie, and over a million of the Asian followers of a medieval Arab mullah he has annoyed, have ended up on our streets with our passports.

Tens of thousands more of the most fanatical and bloodthirsty devotees of the mad Islamic dictators Khomeini and Gaddafi have also ended up on our streets even without our passports as so-called "students". So they can fight their absurd medieval religious wars on our shores.

British men and women are now treated to the spectacle Imams burning books for "blaspheming the Prophet and the Holy Koran" on the steps of Bradford Town Hall and Mullahs in Manchester calling on "Allah the Merciful and Compassionate" to strike dead a lapsed Muslim in Islington. And, more worryingly, to legions of Muslim maniacs with bombs and battle rifles rampaging the planet in the belief that the road to Heaven is paved with the corpses of murdered British hostages and blown-up British Airways jumbo jets.

Its all over something which has nothing whatsoever to do with Britain or the British people. As far as we are concerned, Mr. Rushdie, his books, and the howling hordes of Imams, Islamics and Ayatollahs he has stirred up should be shipped back to the bazaars of the mystic East from which they came forthwith. There, as they have done for centuries, they can rant, riot and kill one another to their hearts' content.

Let Asians fight over an Asian religion in Asia. It is nothing to do with us.

WHAT AN EXAMPLE OF LIBERAL HYPOCRISY

IN A RECENT newspaper article attacking the ban on reporting the propaganda of the IRA and Sinn Fein, one Mark Bonham-Carter indignantly complains that "British liberties are suffering death by a thousand cuts . . . when freedom of expression is considered under English law it is brought home to one how fragile this right is and how much depends on self-restraint on the part of the Government."

There has been, Mr Bonham-Carter observes, "an astonishing failure to defend free speech".

HELPED

Indeed there has. As Mr Bonham-Carter should know better than most. As a former senior official of the Race Relations Board he personally helped run the Government Thought Police agency which defended free speech to the tune of jailing NF newspaper editor Joe Pearce twice for reporting what even the prosecution admitted were true facts, and similarly put FLAG editor Martin Wingfield behind bars for criticising this Government's racial policies.

TRUE LIBERAL

Mr Bonham-Carter clearly thinks "defending free speech" means protecting the right of self-confessed terrorists to use the media as a platform to incite and boast about violence, whilst locking law-abiding Britons up for expressing political opinions, or even revealing facts, of which he disapproves. Spoken like a true liberal.

FRAUD WITHIN THE EEC BENEFITS IRA!

A RECENT report by the Court of Auditors who are meant to keep a check on the EEC's finances, reveals that not only is up to £6,000 million being lost through fraud each year, but that some of this may end up in the hands of the IRA.

The report discloses that financial control within the Common Market is so weak that export refunds are regularly paid on goods which never leave the country of origin. This is becoming an increasingly popular source of income for Southern Irish farmers whose cattle are sent on regular round trips across the border with the North collecting money every time they pass GO!

The IRA are believed to frequently impose levy on such incomes.

The year long investigation also revealed that as few as 1% of loads of beef exports from Britain, Ireland, West Germany and France were checked despite the fact that one load can attract an export refund of £10,000.

One meat trader was discovered to be importing prime beef from Argentina but describing it as offal to avoid import duties. He was also exporting offal but describing it as prime beef to claim export refunds. His swindle netted £10,400,000.

Another swindle is being perpetrated on British taxpayers by Belgian and Italian employees of the Common Market. Instead of retiring at the end of their careers in the normal way they are taking early retirement on the grounds of ill health. In this way they receive nearly 75% of their salaries regardless of their length of service. This swindle is being perpetrated by nearly HALF OF ALL COMMON MARKET EMPLOYEES - costing hundreds of millions of pounds!

MacGregor: Words not action.

And who pays for these frauds? As usual it is the British taxpayer who contributes £2,000 million each year to the Common Market.

Mr John MacGregor, the Minister for Agriculture, said "We now need positive action. This must include looking at new proposals and asking is this susceptible to fraud or mismanagement?".

In other words we might see some action in two or thre years time.

We demand that the Government immediately halts all payments to the Common Market until it is certain that not a single penny ends up with the IRA.

A National Front Government would solve the problem permanently by taking Britain out the Common Market!

• A message from Asian demonstrators to the British people.

languages and nations of North Africa and the Middle East whose very names are forgotten, have sunk forever beneath the Islamic tide. How long before English, French, German follow them?

Already the enemy is across the gate. In Britain there are over a million Muslims. In West Germany two million. In France, where there are three million, their leaders now boast that one day Paris will be the capital of an "Islamic Republic".

Islam's dark dream of a totalitarian tomorrow, one world state ruled by the mullahs, an Orwellian nightmare where the least dissent is punishable by death, has cast its shadow now not just on Teheran but Bradford. As Communism falls apart, an old enemy rises again to stand beside multinational Capitalism as the deadly enemy of our Nation, our Race and our Civilization. That enemy was driven back from the gates of Europe once before, by heroes whose names ring with honour down the centuries ; Charles Martel, El Cid, Don John of Austria, Johan Sobieski of Poland. More than books in Bradford will burn, it is to be feared, before Europe's ancient Enemy is driven back again.

SIKH EXTREMISM

SO WORRIED about Sikh Extremism in Britain are the West Midlands police that they have just visited the Punjab to exchange information with the security forces about Sikh terrorists.

The visit was led by Chief Constable, Geoffrey Dear.

• Dear: Punjab Visit

• 1949: The last tram leaves Manchester.

The Tram Revival

IN 1901 TRAMS were introduced to many of Britain's cities acting as a catalyst for the growth of those cities.

The last city centre tram ran in Glasgow in 1962. In London the last was 1952 and in Manchester 1949.

Trams became unpopular with local authorities because of their then expensive upkeep linked to the frustration of motorists who complained trams took up valuable space in the middle of the street. But 1989 will be the year the tram returns!

Track-laying for a tram system begins in Manchester in October aiming for a complete system within three years. The trams will be articulated, double-ended electric vehicles consisting of two cars, capable of carrying 180 passengers.

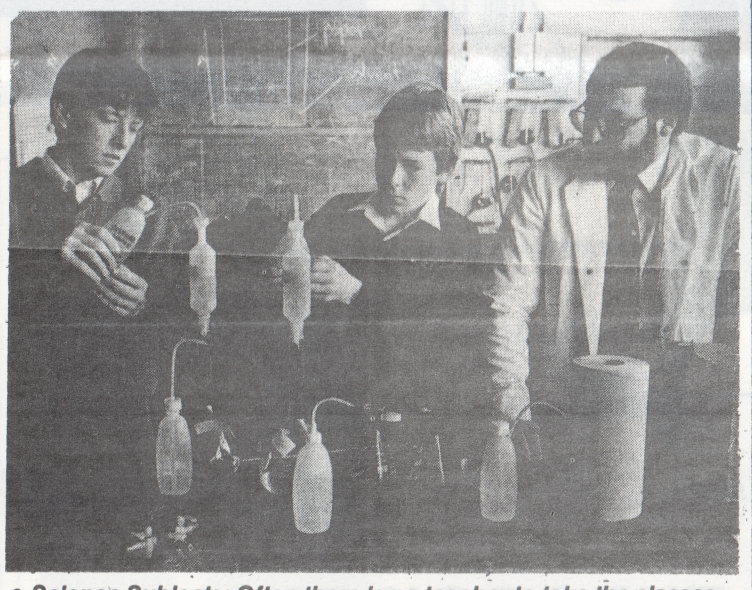
The re-introduction of trams must be backed by the National Front for the following reasons:

* SPEED the electrically-powered supertrams will runs at 80 kilometres an hour being much faster that buses.

* EFFICIENCY trams will arrive at regular intervals (not in twos and threes like buses) because their tramlines will not be affected by roadworks or drivers poaching bus lanes.

* CLEAN trams will be pollution free, reducing the exhaust emissions in city centres.

Tram systems are also planned for Croydon, Bradford and Sheffield.



• Science Subjects: Often there is no teacher to take the classes.

Teacher Shortage!

AT A time when Britain desperately needs qualified school and college graduates to meet the country's needs in the 1990s, schools up and down the country are fiddling curricula to cover a drastic shortage of teachers.

Educational standards are dropping because the teacher shortage is leading to inappropriately-qualified teachers teaching subjects other than their specific ones.

School timetables are being reorganised to hide the subjects, such as science where there is no teacher to conduct the lessons.

The National Front believes it is the right of every child to receive the best education possible. The Government must act now to introduce an emergency programme to train the next generation of teachers giving graduates the financial and job-satisfaction incentives that will produce top class teachers.

COAL INDUSTRY IN A MESS

BRITAIN'S COAL industry is disintegrating into chaos.

Together with the Government's destruction of pit after pit, Thatcher's henchmen are now cutting funding in the research for "clean coal". Thirty-five top British scientists and engineers working on the project have been forced to take up positions with foreign firms after the funding was withdrawn

The low-pollution and high-efficiency coal burning plant at Grimethorpe, near Barnsley now faces closure because of lack of funding.

The Department of Energy announced it would not provide financial support for the 'clean coal' project unless outside help was found. So the Coal Board has had to go cap-in-hand to the Finnish Ahlstrom Corporation to beg for money, hawking British expertise and know-how.

That a state-owned industry which should be looking after the benefits of Britain and the British people should be forced to take such action is a disgrace.

Is nothing sacred from Thatcher's unquenchable thirst for profit?

BLOODY INSULT

WHILE THE rest of England will be celebrating St.George's Day on April 23rd, in Birmingham they will be celebrating 'Tutu Day'.

Birmingham's traditional parade on St George's Day has been called off - to avoid embarrassing Archbishop Tutu who is visiting the city and might mistake the event as "a National Front Rally".

FOREIGN TOXIC WASTE ON ITS WAY TO BRITAIN

REMEMBER THE Karin B the ship carrying dangerous Italian waste that was refused permission to enter Britain and contaminate our soil?

Well she might be safely docked in an Italian port but another ship the Zanoobia is on the prowl looking to place more toxic waste and a British-based company is offering to take on the task of dumping it!

Colliers, of Trafford Park, Manchester, have offered to take on the waste despite the fact that two seamen from the ship have died through contamination.

• Toxic Ship: the Karen B.

Countries should look after their own toxic waste. Britain has enough to dispose of herself without taking on other countries' waste. It's a disgrace that a British-based company should offer to do the Italian's dirty work.

WHEN SMALL IS EFFICIENT

THE MOST efficient National Front branch during January was Great Yarmouth. Probably the smallest National Front branch in the country.

They amassed the points by inundating their local papers with letters covering a multitude of subjects and embarking on a thorough leafletting campaign throughout the town.

Congratulations to Great Yarmouth and a pat on the back for Organiser, Tom Holmes and Secretary, Andrew Lightfoot for their hard work during January.

Well done also to Devon for coming a close second just one point behind. Increasing their order for The FLAG played a part in them collecting 136 points.

Third place went to Brierley Hill & Dudley with 104 points.

EURO-ELECTION

THE NATIONAL Front are to contest the East Birmingham seat at the Euro-Elections in June. The purpose of fighting this election is to get Maggie Thatcher's postal service to deliver 250,000 National Front election addresses to homes in the constituency.

National Front policies will be read by 750,000 people in Birmingham courtesy of the Post Office.

JOURNEY TO THE LAND TIME FORGOT

IT WAS with mixed feelings that I received an invitation from the Workington Branch of the National Front to be the guest speaker at their January Branch Meeting. It was flattering to be asked, of course, but Workington? There may be a town in England that is less accessible from my home town of Brighton, but fortunately the National Front doesn't have a branch there.

The meeting was to take place on a Saturday afternoon, so I arranged to travel up by coach on the Friday night. Let me give The FLAG readers a simple piece of advice - never travel over-night to Workington. You will be stranded in Carlisle for two hours from four in the morning waiting for a connection, and the only hospitality Carlisle offers the weary overnight traveller is a coffee dispenser in the BR Station, that swallows 20p pieces - but stubbornly refuses to part with any coffee.

The thought occurred to this weary traveller that the Branch meeting was going to set a new first - instead of the audience falling asleep during the guest speaker's talk, the guest speaker would fall asleep instead.

Fortunately things perked up once I reached Workington on the Saturday morning. Workington Branch was holding a sales drive of The FLAG in their local town centre shopping precinct, and I discovered that the Branch has an excellent record of activities, having hardly missed a single Saturday morning's sales drive for several months.

It was also pleasing to see the NF outselling a small group of sexually indeterminate people attempting to peddle Socialist Worker by a factor of about nine to one. Now to be honest I must admit that this task was made easier by the fact that the Reds hardly sold anything, but since it rained steadily and there were few shoppers around in the precinct it's not too surprising that sales were modest all round.

On to the meeting itself. Branch Organiser Kevin Wilshaw and I were pleased to see a record turnout for a Workington Branch meeting, since the Branch was reformed in 1988. In all twenty-five people attended. Even more encouragingly this included a small contingent of youngsters from Barrow-in-Furness, who are keen to set up their own NF Branch.

The meeting itself went well. Ian Leese gave a very efficient Activities Report, stressing the need for maximum commitment and a good turnout for all activities, and I was impressed to discover that Branch Organiser Kevin Wilshaw is a very effective public speaker. Modesty inhibits me from mentioning my own contribution - suffice it to say that both I and the audience managed to stay awake!

It was also pleasing to discover that many of those now in Workington NF had previously been in other Nationalist groups, but had all come to realise that there is only one effective Nationalist movement in Britain today - the National Front. The NF is now the only Nationalist party operating in the whole of Cumbria, and the party's growth there reflects this new-found spirit of Nationalist unity.

Buffet Follows Annual General Meeting

ANNUAL ELECTIONS to the committee of the Birmingham Branch of the National Front took place on January 28th.

The results were as follows:
Chairman: Sam Fairbairn
Organiser: John Hill
Treasurer: Norman Tompkinson
Secretary: Bill Ayto
Elections Officer: Bob Jones
YNF Organiser: Andy Skuce.

The meeting was addressed by the Chairman of the National Front Policy Department, Steve Brady, and a collection raised £52.92.

A buffet supper followed the meeting.

200 Info' Packs Sent Out in Coventry

SLOW BUT sure progress is being made by Coventry & Warwickshire National Front.

In the last two months 200 information packs have been sent out to former members and supporters with a promising response.

Targetting Leamington Spa, the branch are planning to swamp the area with NF literature and are receiving a welcome hand from the Birmingham Branch in organising their activities.

And all the activity hasn't gone unnoticed. The last week in February saw the local papers in Coventry carry front page stories on the growth of the National Front in the town.

Organiser Dean O'Brien and Secretary Trevor Stokes are the lads responsible for all the hard work.

New Magazine From Bristol NF

NEW BRITAIN is a magazine produced by the Bristol Branch of the National Front.

As well as keeping members up to date with all the local National Front activities, New Britain has articles on the Vikings, and Nationalism.

Walsall Branch Meeting

THE FIRST meeting of the newly-formed Walsall Branch of the National Front took place in the town on January 26th.

Eighteen members and supporters heard National Activities Organiser John Hill outline the programme of the Party during 1989.

Law & Order Leaflets For Worthing

3,000 LAW & Order leaflets have been put out during February by the Worthing Branch of the National Front in Castle Ward where they are putting up a candidate in the May elections.

Sussex Regional Organiser, Ian Taylor as well as being the candidate is organising the leafletting. Despite the cold weather on the coast this means no pub visits, no smoking and no chatting while the activity takes place.

Local traders have reported a marked rise in the sales of hip-flasks.

THE DEATH OF THE NORTH

The Channel Tunnel will be the final nail in the coffin of Britain's former industrial heartland.

THE CHANNEL Tunnel will widen the North-South divide and make unemployment in Nothern England even worse. This was the conclusion of a report by the Centre for Local Economic Strategies, published on February 1st. The report gives further expert backing to what the National Front has been saying for years - the Channel Tunnel is a disaster and should be scrapped.

The Centre's report forecasts that when the Tunnel is open, it could mean "physical barriers going up between the North and Continental Europe". Jobs and investment will drain even further out of the North to the South-East. It will be so bad that "many companies in the North would benefit from a move to north-eastern France".

The report reveals that the Chunnel damage has already started, with the construction work itself worsening the North-South divide and benefiting foreigners at the expense of even Southern Britons. Since work began on the tunnel, the North has won only four per-cent of the £700 million construction contracts involved. But the South hasn't done that much better - 75% of the work has gone to the French. Of the 8,000 jobs that were created - temporarily - by Chunnel-building this year, the North has gained a mere 238.

So the Channel Tunnel doesn't just threaten to tear up Kent, the "Garden of England" and turn it into an industrial slum. It reaches out its wrecking tentacles across Britain, threatening to make even worse the biggest economic blight on Britain - the appalling imbalance between the relatively rich South and the ever poorer North, Scotland, Wales and Ulster. The Tories don't care about this - they were mostly elected by the South of England, and could still win elections if the despised "cloggies" starve on the streets: they never vote Tory anyway.

But in the longer term, the Tunnel will turn all Britain, North and South, into the "depressed North" of a "Single Market" Euro-economy centred on the German Ruhr and the Low Countries. Already, Ford's are moving car production from Dagenham, even though it is in Southern England, to Genk in Belgium. The Tunnel will allow the freer flow of foreign imports in, and investment and jobs out, of all of Britain.

It is an environmental and economic disaster, as well as removing the moat that has defended Britain from successful foreign invasion for over 900 years. Alone of significant political parties, the NF realises this, and says "STOP THE CHUNNEL NOW!"

• Sunderland: No future, No hope.

THE PRICE OF SELLING BRITAIN'S ASSETS

PRIVATISATION IS responsible for for the loss of 2,500 jobs and the closing of two major British Areospace production sites.

The guided weapons plant at Hatfield, Herts will close at the end of the year as well as its electronics plant at Bracknell, Berks.

When Royal Ordnance was privatised, British Areospace acquired it for £190 million. Now they will sell the prime sites for development netting a profit of £500 million.

Has there ever been a clearer example to the British people of the cost of privatisation. The British people have been robbed by this government of £500 million through the privatisation of Royal Ordnance. 2,500 jobs have been lost through privatisation of Royal Ordnance and the defence of Britain is being put at risk through the privatisation of Royal Ordnance with cutbacks in the production of missiles such as the Rapier, Sea Dart and Alarm.

THE TRUE FACE OF LABOUR

THE TRUE face of the Labour Party has emerged in Bristol West where Kuomba Balogun, a convicted firebomber who has convictions for assault and possession of ammunition has been elected Chairman of the Constituency Labour Party.

U.S. Lead in Gas Weapons

THE UNITED States now leads the world in chemical weapons technology and plans to produce one million of its new binary poison gas weapons in the next decade.

Binary poison gas weapons keep various relatively harmless chemicals in separate containers and mix them together on the way to enemy targets to produce deadly gas.

KATYN LIE NAILED!

AT LAST the truth has come out. Poland have finally laid to rest the famous historical lie by admitting that the Soviet Union and not the Nazis was responsible for the wartime massacre of 4,000 Polish officers in the Forest of Katyn.

A report in the Polish weekly magazine Odrodzenie pre-empts a report from the Polish-Soviet historical commission.

Odrodzenie's article was based on a report by the Polish Red Cross which in 1943 exhumed the officers' bodies from the mass grave at Katyn Forest near Smolensk and concluded they were killed in 1940 while the region was under Russian control.

The file of the report was found by Polish historian Wlod Zimierz Kowalski during research in Britain.

Katyn is one lie of the last war that has finally been nailed. Now let's start on the rest!

Now the Tunnel is costing British-Lives

FOLLOWING LAST month's report in The FLAG about safety in the Channel Tunnel over 500 men have walked out in protest. The men working on linings for the tunnel were specifically protesting about the case of one of their colleagues who was crushed and injured by a fall of cement.

A spokesman for the TGWU said that tunnel contractors were putting "profits before workers' safety".

The government's own senior safety inspector on the project has demanded a meeting with contractors over levels of safety after two deaths in less than two weeks. Sheila Simes, the wife of 35 year-old David Simes who was one of those killed said "If people are dying just to get the tunnel finished, something must be done. It is not worth lives."

It is now obvious that after falling well behind schedule at the end of the year, the contractors are sacrificing safety standards in a desperate attempt to catch up. As a result workers have complained about a number of lapses in the safety procedure. These include:-

* The safety levels on the project only have to accord with the Factories Act instead of the normal and much more strict Mines and Quarries Act.
* Because of a shortage of skilled workers the contractors are employing less skilled workers who are not used to the type of work being carried out and who are not properly trained.
* There are no safety manholes to allow workers to escape from oncoming trains, and hot and cramped conditions near to potentially dangerous machinery together with fumes and constant noise are making life very hazardous, even to the extent that alarms and oncoming trains cannot be heard.

The Secretary of the Institute of Occupational Health and Safety, John Barrell said: "When one is up against a deadline it is inevitable that short cuts will be made. It would be extremely remiss if anyone was killed".

The widows of the dead workers might put it a little more strongly.

The National Front predicted that the completed tunnel would be a disaster for Britain aiding the import of drugs and terrorism as well as allowing the invasion of rabies and foreign imports. Even we could not have predicted the callous way in which lives are being sacrificed to complete this national disaster on time.

POLL TAX: THE TALE OF TWO HOMES

The Tories Looking After Their Own!

THE DURANT'S live in a town where the poll tax will be £300 a head, a bit lower than most parts of London and some other cities. Mr Durant is a street paper seller and earns £120.

His wife was sacked when the factory she worked in was privatised and is now unemployed. Their 18 year-old daughter gets £65 a week as a shop assistant. They live in a three room council flat.

Their income is £185 a week. Their rates are £7 a week. Their Poll Tax will be £18 a week. Under the Tories the Durant's are £11 a week worse off.

• The Durant's £11 a week worse off.

The Griffin's live in a large detached house in the same town. Mr Griffin works for a banking firm on £35,000 a year. Mrs Griffin is a public relations consultant recieving £20,000 a year. Their income is £1,000 a week. Their rates are £35 a week. Their Poll Tax will be £11 a week. Under the Tories the Griffin's are £24 a week better off.

Ozone Hole Means Skin Cancer Threat

• Sunbathing: The hole in the Ozone Layer is a direct threat to British people.

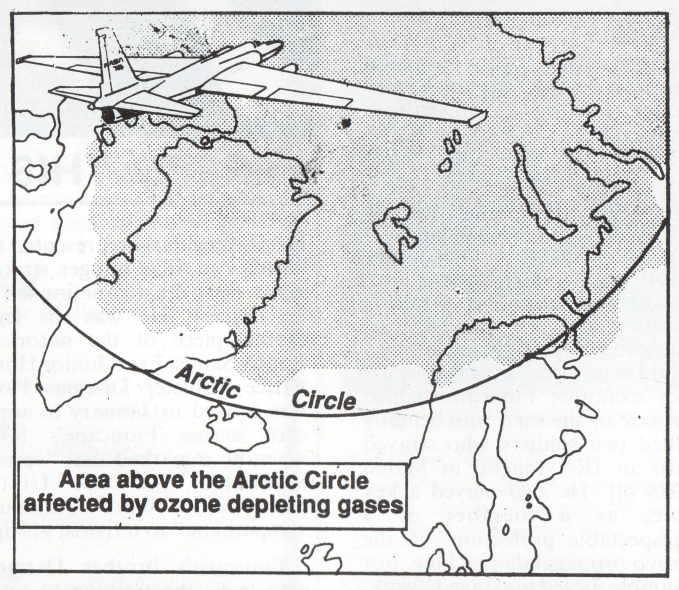
A MAJOR new pollution threat, especially dangerous to White people, was revealed by the American National Aeronautics and Space Administration on February 18th. It comes from chloroflurocarbon (CFC) gases menacing the protective ozone layer high in the stratosphere over our heads. If that ozone layer were damaged, deadly ultraviolet radiation from the Sun would be able to reach the ground, causing skin cancer, especially in light-skinned White people.

After weeks of tests conducted by aircraft including amodified U2 spyplane flying 11 miles up, and involving over 200 scientists from the US, Britain, Norway and Germany, NASA's shock finding was that the ozone-threatening CFC's were fifty times more concentrated than they had thought over the Arctic. The CFC's are concentrated by climatic factors at the Poles. Since 1985, CFC's have maintained a huge hole, bigger than North America, over the Antarctic. Last year that hole began to spread over populated parts of Australia and New Zealand, exposing the people below to the deadly UV rays. Now scientists fear that the coming of spring, which will provide sunlight to drive the chemical reactions by which CFC's destroy our ozone shield, will open a similar hole over the Arctic and surrounding areas, possibly including Britain, Europe and North America. The consequences could be devasting.



Area above the Arctic Circle affected by ozone depleting gases

According to Dr. Lester Grant, of the official US Environmental Protection Agency, "The lighter skinned White populations of the world are expected to be most affected, with 70,000 new cases of non-melanoma skin cancer per year (worldwide) with 1% stratospheric ozone depletion and 360,000 cases annually with 5% depletion". But the actual ozone depletion the Southern Hemisphere has already got, and we are now facing, isn't just 1% or even 5%. Nor even the 12% drop Melbourne, Australia, experienced last December. It is 95%. And skin cancer leads through horrifying disfigurement to a death in agony.

Other effects of the threatened "hole in the sky" would include cataracts and blindness in animals and people, severe cuts in food crop yields, damage to marine life, an increase in global warming due to the greenhouse effect, and complex, hard-to-predict but possibly catastrophic effects on the Earth's general ecology and balance of nature. The absence of an ozone layer before plants had produced enough of the oxygen from which it forms kept life in the seas for three-quarters of the time it existed on Earth. It was the ozone layer which made life possible. Now human greed is threatening to destroy the shield that safeguards that life.

For the CFC's which are now revealed to be in the atmosphere at far higher levels that scientists' worst fears are put there be aerosols, refrigerators and air-conditioners. Substitutes which don't harm the ozone layer are available, but they are more expensive. So using them would harm profits, which matter more than peoples' lives to the giant multinational Capitalist and State Communist producers which dominate the World's economy. From Moscow to Manhattan, short-sighted selfish greed and economic materialism have ruled supreme for years. Now they threaten to kill us all.

All the Government has done, despite the much publicised "greening of Mrs Thatcher" is to sign the "Montreal Agreement" to "limit" production of CFC's and other ozone-harming chemicals. This is pathetically inadequate. As Dr. Rod Jones, a senior British Meteorological Office scientist who played a key role in the NASA survey points out, even if all nations fully implemented the "Montreal Protocols" - and many have not even signed them - "it would still allow atmospheric chlorine and bromine levels" (it is chlorine in CFC's which destroys the ozone) "to double by the middle of the next century". Reaching twice the level that has already made the holes in the sky.

The NF, on the other hand, means business. In our Statement of Policy, written before this devastating discovery, we said "we will ban the use of chlorofluorocarbon aerosol propellants" - not "limit" but ban. Only a total global ban on all CFC's, regardless of "cost", "loss of profits", "knock-on effects on inflation" etc. can now avert a catastrophe for our Race on the scale of an atomic war. It is surely better to pay more for deodorant and fridges than die in agony! It is now literally true that only the NF's policy can save the world. In the meantime, YOU can help. Remember, every time you squirt an aerosol, unless it is one of the new CFC-free safe ones, you help condemn yourself, your children, and our Race to a horrible death. Boycott CFC aerosols, and warn your friends, neighbours and workmates to do the same. If enough of us do this, we can hit the plutocrats' profits, put across the only argument Thatcherite Capitalists understand, and thereby save our World. It is, after all, so far the only one we've got.

MUSLIM FURY AWAITS DRABBLE

IN THE wake of the Salman Rushdie row, another liberal scribbler and darling of the multiracialists is now living in fear of the Islamic genie she helped let out of the Immigration bottle. Margaret Drabble, a noted smoked-salmon socialist, is worried that her new novel, A Natural Curiosity, may arouse the wrath of the Imams and unleash on her head the wrath of sections of the multiracial society she has always championed.

For the novel commits the grievous sin against the Prophet, Allah, Khomeini etc. of having a character who, in trying to understand why Moslem extremists killed one of his friends, reads the Koran. He then condemns his creator to whipping, stoning, burning at the stake and so on by concluding that he "prefers the New Testament".

• Liberal Drabble is Living in fear.

Drabble is now dreading the novel's publication in September. She says she already feels "quite ill" with worry for her friend Rushdie already in hiding from the Islamic Thought Police stalking our streets. Now she says that if her novel earns her the same treatment "the whole of Britain might just as well go and jump in the sea". Into which the whole of indigenous Britain will be driven if Drabble's beloved multiracial society is allowed to carry on as it is doing for another hundred years at most.

Margaret Drabble wanted Britain to import a million Muslims. It will serve her right is they now burn her books and drive her cowering under her bed.

Incitement to Murder

INCITEMENT IS A common law offence punishable on conviction by an unlimited fine or imprisonment. The sentence is left to the discretion of the court. For the offence to be committed the law requires only that someone should "persuade, encourage or command another person to commit an offence".

I know the law quite well. I was sent to prison because of it.

In Bradford, Muslim leaders have called for the death of Salman Rushdie. Their statements have been heard on television and read in newspapers by millions of people. Hundreds of thousands of those people have been Muslims who would answer without question the call to murder made by their leaders.

You can imagine that I'm a little bit peeved. The West Yorkshire Police have decided not to prosecute those leaders for incitement.

I spent the Christmas months of 1985/86 in Pentonville for calling on the voters of Marine Ward in Brighton, all 4,600 of them, in my election address as a duly nomininated National Front candidate to reject multi-racialism and vote for a Party that would return coloured immigrants to their own countries.

I wasn't aware that repatriation was a crime, and one apparently more serious than murder.

It's not really fair is it.

Then of course fairness does not come into it. In Britain today there is a privileged class of people who are allowed to flout the law at every opportunity. From not wearing crash helmets to carrying knives, from being able to abuse other people while being protected from abuse themselves. They also have preferential treatment in schools, in jobs and in housing.

The British people have no one to fight their corner for them apart from the National Front. They will continue to be unfairly treated until National Front representatives start to get elected.

As a follower who sometimes seeks guidance from the Church I was hoping to see Church leaders standing up to condemn this alien religion that condones the butchering of a human being. But again I was let down. Robert Runcie called for the banning of Satanic Verses to 'protect Moslem sensitivities'.

Now I'm all for a new blasphemy law. For if Satanic Verses is banned for offending Muslims then the Koran will be banned for offending Christians.

For the Koran asserts that Christ did not die on the cross (Koran 157,4), and there can be no doubt that that is blasphemy and offensive to the millions of Christians in Britain.

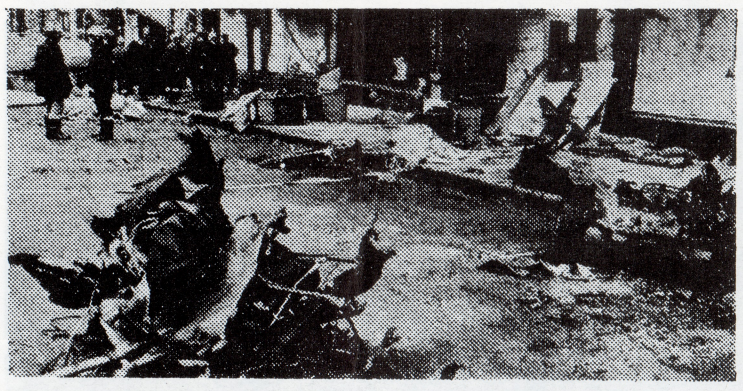
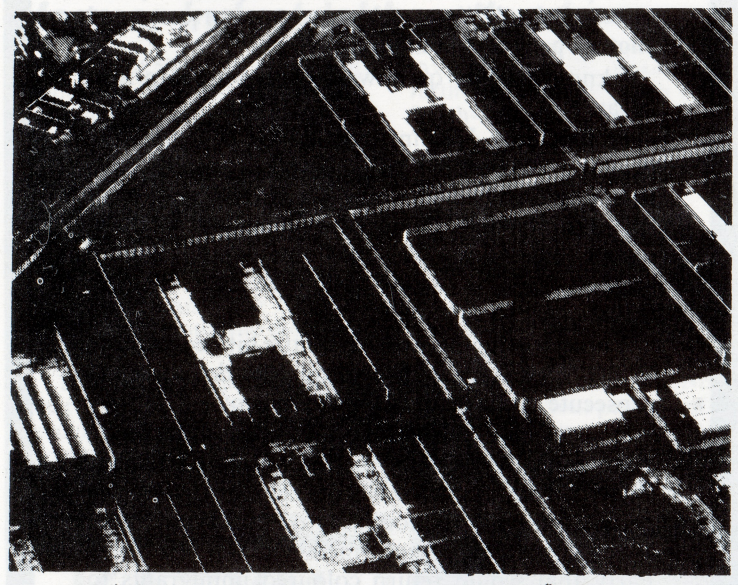
★ KILLERS FREED TO KILL AGAIN!



★ BOMBERS FREED TO BOMB AGAIN

The Legacy of Just Another 'INNOCENT CATHOLIC!'

★ FREED: THIS SOLDIER'S KILLER



★ IRA TERRORISTS FREED

WHEN BELFAST solicitor Patrick Finucane was shot by the Loyalist Ulster Freedom Fighters on Saturday, February 11th, the media lie machine at once churned out its usual line: he was another "innocent Catholic victim" of Loyalist "sectarian murder gangs". Had Mr. Finucane been on the Loyalist side, any political or paramilitary links he might have had would have been all over the papers and TV whilst his killers would have been no "sectarian murder gang" but "the Provisional IRA" or "Irish National Liberation Army", for all the world as though they were a legitimate armed force of a recognised state instead of a gang of criminal psychopaths.

So let's redress the balance. How "innocent" was Patrick Finucane? The truth is that he was a lifelong active pro-IRA Republican. As a trained solicitor, he did not plant bombs or the gun down men, women and children. His special skills were too valuable to the Provo murder machine to be wasted on simple thuggery. Finucane's role was to use the absurd legal red tape in which the British war effort against the IRA has been entangled by the politicians at Westminster, to "spring" the gunmen and the bombers, so they could return to "active service". For example, Finucane helped get one of the men who brutally killed two soldiers who strayed into an IRA funeral in March 1988 off. He also played a key role, as a member of a "respectable profession" in the Provo propaganda machine. For example, he led the staged "walk-out" by the families of the IRA terrorists in the ludicrous "shoot-to-kill" inquest last November. He also regularly represented the families of IRA hunger strikers when their drastic dieting led to an inquest. He was the legal mouth piece of the notorious Bobby Sands. Even Junior Home Office Minister Douglas Hogg was moved in January to aim a shot across Finucane's bows when he remarked that "certain members" of the Ulster profession were "unduly sympathetic" to terrorist groups.

Finucane's brother Dermot, who lacks the training to serve the Provos in the courtroom, is a straightforward IRA terrorist, currently in Eire's Portlaoise Prison awaiting extradition to Ulster to face charges arising out of the IRA mass breakout from the Maze in 1983. But Dermot never sprang as many IRA killers from jail as his "respectable" brother Patrick did. Many a victim of terror died because Patrick Finucane talked their killer free of prison. He had their blood on his hands Patrick Finucane served the Provos better than a dozen gunmen. He got the gunmen freed, and made an evil and depraved gang of scum look respectable in the eyes of the World. He will not be missed . . . .

Tough Tories

WELL IT'S not all bad news, is it? The recent revelations concerning Winnie Mandela's bodyguard of homicidal primitives has surely gladdened the heart of every decent racial nationalist, especially me. The fact that St.Winnie, the Mother of the Nation (or is it the Mother of Africa; or possibly the World?) has been involved in some exceedingly dodgy goings-on comes as no surprise at all to me. The only thing that does surprise me is how the wife of a convicted black terrorist manages to live in such elegant style without any visible means of support. Can it be . . .? No, surely not. Not St. Winnie.

However, St Winnie's fall from divinity has certainly caused a commotion in the murky recesses of the "liberal" dovecotes, with the wee creatures twittering like mad and frantically trimming their little tail feathers in an attempt to get out of the draught.

This particularly applies to the gaggle of renegade priests whose message of Christian love has done so much to bring about the African bloodbath. Why, even I was moved by the tragic spectacle of poor old decrepit Fr. Trevor Huddleston - whose frenetic outpourings against the S.Africans have made the crazy Ayatollah seem like the voice of sweet reason - positively writhing with embarrassment as he tried to explain away the misdeed of his beloved Winnie. It's all due to the intolerable pressures put upon the saintly lady by the wicked S.Africans you see. No doubt he would also have blamed unemployment and bad living conditions were St. Winnie not so obviously fully employed and living well.

I've so often condemned such priests as commies hiding behind dog collars. Now it seems to me wholly appropriate that such mangy curs should wear dog collars.

Of course our Tory representatives are not like that. You know, they're really concerned about the race issue. They're sort of doing things behind the scenes.

Just what they're doing behind the scenes came to light just recently.

Labour controlled Southwark Council is reported to have been shattered by the revelations about the Mandela entourage since they had only just renamed their housing works department "Winnie Mandela House".

Tough-minded Tories are said to be beside themselves with glee over Labour's embarrassment and the Tory representatives on the council's anti-apartheid working party - yes, that's right - have attempted to stage a grand coup.

They have demanded that Winnie Mandela House should be renamed - wait for it - Nelson Mandela House.

Gosh! Don't these hard-line right wingers ever know when to stop?

A Sort of Freedom

WHEN AYATOLLAH Khomeini issued his asinine death threat against the woggish scribbler Salman Rushdie, my first reaction was anger followed almost immediately by a distinct feeling of pique. Well I mean, here is this obscure author who, by that strangely unnatural process called "naturalisation", has become a British object; who writes books that hardly anyone reads; who decides to be frightfully controversial about Islam and overnight acquires international notoriety and millionaire status.

I, on the other hand, have been systematically insulting Islam for years; have not received even so much as a stiff letter from the loopy old Ayatollah, and am having to save hard to attain pauper status. I'll tell you what it is; it's racial discrimination.

That feeling of pique was compounded by the dawning realisation that the weedy wog was being built up as the embodiment of our much vaunted (but not apparent) British freedom of speech - rugged John Bull or, possibly, Ali Bull. Imagine my relief, therefore, when, from his bolthole somewhere in England, Ali Bull issued a craven apology to the demented hordes of Islam; and my pleasure when it was contemptuously rejected.

The reaction of our Government was immediate and characteristically tough. The Billy Bunter of world diplomacy, Sir Geoffrey Howe, withdrew our diplomats from Teheran - a mere two days after every other European country.

Madam Thatcher reminded the world that we don't burn books in Britain - no indeed; we just put the authors in jail.

Both La Thatcher and that odiously creepy Home Secretary Douglas Hurd asserted their steely determination to uphold "British freedom of speech" - "within the law", they added hastily lest they be prosecuted under their own Trades Descriptions Act. Since their Race Relations Acts have effectively destroyed freedom of speech in Britain, such little as remains could be easily upheld by an arthritic centenarian.

After numerous impertinent sooty aliens had emerged from the Casbahs of the Midlands to utter the kind of death threats that would have landed a Briton in jail the following day; the aforementioned odious creep Douglas Hurd, went to the Black Country, ostensibly to read them the Riot Act; in fact to utter a sort of peremptory whinge. After informing them that incitement to murder was really rather naughty and actually against British law at present, he sought to sugar the bitter pill by assuring them that the law would protect them against "racial attacks and racial harassment" - this being Toryese for "don't be fooled by all this crap about freedom of speech, we still intend to bash the British on your behalf".

So it is not merely the myths of Islam that need examination but that peculiarly pernicious British myth of "our freedom of speech". There is surely a book to be written about that.

Perhaps we could induce Salman Rushdie to write a slim volume. A novella perhaps? A Salmanella?

Christian Aid

YOU MAY remember the furore, some years ago, over the law compelling motor cyclists to wear crash helmets. You will recall that impudent Sikh aliens refused to comply with the law on the grounds that crash helmets would rumple their turbans and demanded that they, as privileged persons, should be exempt from British law altogether.

This demand, as we know, received the grovelling acquiescence of the authorities who then proceeded to apply the law with great vigour to British serfs only.

You may also recall that heroic Fred Hill died in prison, having been there incarcerated for having the temerity to suggest that mere Britons were as much entitled to privilege as Sikhs. There it seemed the matter had ended. British serfs were obeying the law; the Sikhs were successfully ignoring it, and the issue seemed as dead and forgotten as Fred Hill.

Now it has resurfaced. There are now laws that require workers on building sites to wear safety helmets. The Sikhs, as privileged aliens, are naturally refusing to comply.

You may be surprised to learn that I fully support the ragheads. I am firmly against racial harassment and I believe that Sikh building workers are not only fully entitled to special privileges but should be encouraged to exercise them.

Indeed, as confirmation of my support, I am offering them, at a positive give-away price, some rusty old scaffolding I happen to have available; which can be erected to a great height and includes some rather dodgy but exceedingly weighty steel scaffolding clips.

After all, if they are going to be allowed to wear their passports to heaven, should they not be given every opportunity to make use of them?

HELPING THE FAMILY INCOME

THE CALLOUS streak which runs deep in the Oriental mind was brutally exposed when the Thai Children's Rights Protection Centre revealed that over 800,000 girls under 16 in the South-East Asian Country had been sold into prostitution by their own parents.

LUMP SUM

The child welfare group's spokesman, Mr Montri Sintawichai, said "Mainly these child prostitutes are sold by their parents because they need a lump sum of money". Northern Thai hill tribe parents can get £100 each from pimps for their daughters. Ethnic Thais can do better selling their little girls to brothels for between £200-£700 a head.

PRIORITIES

The Orientals obviously have a clear sense of priorities. In a survey of nine typical villages, spread across three Northern Thai provinces, childrens' campaigner Mr Montri found only five young girls whose parents hadn't sold them off to pimps.

Welcome Lead

I have recently read your 'Introduction to the National Front' and was most impressed. In particular, I was glad to see a bit of support for Scots Gaelic, Welsh and the other native languages of these islands. This will go a long way to answer those who say that the NF is 'a Sassenach party" and that nationalistic Scots should put their trust in the multi-racialist SNP, Pakistanis in kilts and all.

Indeed, the NF seems to be the only UK-wide party that cares about the Scots Gaelic speech, an Canan nan Gaidheal, the speech of the Gael. Even the Welsh get better treatment from Westminster. For example, since 1947, it has been lawful to argue a case in court in Welsh. Later Acts of Parliament made it lawful for all legal and official documents to be in Welsh. The native language has equality with English legally in the Principality.

• The SNP is a multi-racial party.

But Scots Gaelic, in contrast, has no such standing. Legal documents, wills, contracts etc. drawn up in the language of the country for fifteen hundred years are 'worthless' in law, so called 'Scots' law made in London.

Not only may you not speak the speech of Scotland in a Scots court, but even if it is your birth-tongue you cannot have a Gaelic interpreter. Our language has no legal standing in our own country. No wonder even a careerist bandwagon-jumper like Jim Sillars gets in on the Nationalist ticket.

If Britain is not to break up altogether, injustices like this, and Scots' concerns generally, must be taken seriously by UK parties. The NF looks to be giving a welcome lead in this regard.

Yours etc,

A. McDonald,
Oban,
Scotland.

Refreshing

It was a pleasant change to see animal welfare and the environment covered in the February issue of The FLAG.

While of course the survival of the identity of the British people is threatened in the main by coloured immigration, our very existence on this planet is threatened by the way we abuse the environment.

Protection of our land and our identity should go hand in hand. Battling for a Britain of British people living in a land that we are preserving and caring for should be the two-pronged attack that the National Front campaigns on.

What good is a Britain, populated by British people, where they are dying because of the effects of pollution.

Keep up the good work, my friends and I do enjoy reading the paper every month.

M. Poole,
Hounslow,
Middlesex.

Saxon & Norse

Yet again, for at least the third issue in a row, your "Thought for the Month" is taken from the Christian Bible. Yet many NF members and supporters are increasingly turning away from this alien Middle-Eastern imported cult, no more rooted in our folk-soul than Islam, and back to the ancient faith of our Saxon and Norse forefathers.

Why can't we have some of their ancient wisdom to ponder, instead of the maunderings of Middle Eastern mullahs.

For example, from the Havamal, the Sayings of the High One, Odin Allfather, "If evil thou knowest, as evil proclaim it, and make no friendship with foes" - words the Foreign Office, for one, might ponder.

Odinism, unlike Christianity, is indigenous to our racial homeland and sprung from our own ethnic spiritual awareness. As a paper dedicated to preserving our native race, you should surely give a fair crack of the whip to our native religion as well.

Odin lives!

Eric White,
Ravenstone,

Bashing Budden

It has become fashionable of late in some quarters of our society to mock and ridicule all our historical greatness, whether individual or national.

I thought that we in the National Front were, to a man and woman, opposed to such derision of our great past. I believed that one of the National Front's cornerstones was its desire to preserve in the national consciousness the legacy of Great British deeds and the memories of Great Britons.

But what do we find in February's issue of The FLAG?

Ted Budden deriding Nelson as a "vain little man".

For the enlightenment of Ted Budden; Nelson - the victor of Battles of the Nile, Copenhagen and Trafalgar in which he gave his life for his country - is still a popular hero and greatly admired by most of his fellow countrymen.

What purpose does Ted Budden serve by voicing his puerile prejudices? Does he wish to alienate all traditionalists and patriots who see in our great historical past a lot more than food for the eternal derider?

Martyn Sykes,
Leeds,
West Yorkshire.

Budden Again

I'm fed up with Ted Budden going on about the size of Colin Moynihan. He should be attacking his policies not his physical stature.

As someone only 5ft 4ins, I've had a lifetime of being called 'short-arse'. It can be very offensive.

I work as hard as the next man for the National Front and it's a bit galling when I'm indirectly ridiculed in the newspaper of the Party that I support.

KEEP CANADA WHITE

IN THE first 11 months of 1988, Canada admitted 146,324 Immigrants. 21,357 came from Hong Kong, 9,688 came from India and 8,193 came from Great Britain. The top 11 source countries for Canadian Immigrants also included the Phillippines, Vietnam, Iran, the Lebanon and Jamaica.

PROTECT

A new organisation has been set up in Canada to protect the European, and particularly the British, ethnic identity of the country, which is now being threatened by growing non-White, especially Asian, Immigration.

REAL BUILDERS

Not surprisingly, the newly-formed British European Immigration Aid Foundation has found a ready ear among many Canadians when it warns that the basic composition of Canada's population is being "diluted by Immigration".

The Foundation is not just a negative anti-Immigration group. It has a policy of positively promoting Immigration to Canada - which unlike Britain is still very sparsely peopled - by White Britons and other Europeans, whom it rightly describes as "the real builders" of Canada.

THE HARD-WORKING PRINCESS ROYAL

PRINCESS ANNE is the hardest working member of the Royal Family.

Figures published about the work-load of 'The Royals' put Princess Anne head and shoulders above the rest.

In total during 1988 she attended 665 work engagements over 100 more than any other member of the Royal Family, 416 more than 'the lovely Di' and 512 more than 'Fergie'.

She took only 3 weeks holiday, compared to Edward's 10 weeks, Charles's 14 weeks, and the Queen's 15 weeks.

BREWERY NEWS with Steve Brady

WARRINGTON-BASED Greenall Whitley, which has become the eighth giant combine to carve up the British beer market, has announced that the much-loved Davenport's brewery in Birmingham, which it took over a few years ago, is to close in July, with the loss of 100 jobs.

This means that the distinctive real ale, sold in 331 Midlands pubs and the winner of many an award for quality, will dry up forever.

This is the third time Greenall Whitley have bought up, asset-stripped and closed down a real ale independent brewery. Simpkiss of Brierley Hill was taken over and shut down in 1985: its beers being replaced by brews from Wem's of Shrewsbury, which GW had also bought up. Then in early 1988 Wem's was closed down too, its beers being replaced by Davenport's. Davenports ale is now to be replaced by ale from Shipstone's of Nottingham, which fell into Greenalls' clutches in 1978. No doubt Shipstone's will be next for the chop.

This ruthless buying up and shutting down of popular local breweries making good beer in order to make bigger profits for giant combines could not happen if the NF had its way. We would break up the big beer combines into small independent breweries run by their workforces, and would abolish the Stock Market system which allow hostile takeovers. So if you want to save your pint - vote NF!

Brick Lane Brewery to be Flattened by Developers

EAST LONDON'S historic Brick Lane brewery, founded by Ben Truman in 1666, is to close.

Its owners, the vast Grand Metropolitan combine, plan to make millions flogging the ten acre site to a consortium of developers, who plan to "redevelop" the whole Spitalfields area.

This follows Grand Met's sale of 121 of their 3700 pubs to the Control Securities empire of Asian plutocrat Nazmu Virani for a cool £21 million cash. The closure of the Brick Lane brewery, which makes Trumans "Red" hoppy Best Bitter, means that Grand Met's Watney, Mann Truman tentacle will no longer brew even a token real ale in London.

Yet again, the ordinary beer-drinking Briton suffers at the hands of the vast monopolistic combines that have swallowed up the British brewing industry.

CRE TARNISHES HERO'S MEMORY

WING COMMANDER Guy Gibson led the RAF raid that destroyed the dams of the Ruhr in the 1939-45 War, for which he was awarded the Victoria Cross.

His exploits were portrayed in the film The Dambusters. He was killed in action at the age of 26.

Now the memory of Guy Gibson is being tarnished by the Race Relations Industry. A photograph showing him in 1943 with members of his squadron and his black labrador, Nigger, was shown in an Air Force magazine, and that has provoked the weasels of the CRE to complain that the name 'Nigger' has 'blatant racist overtones' and its mention in the magazine was 'offensive and inappropriate'.

The Commission have demanded that the photograph and the caption must not be used again.

SICK JOKE AS BBC PROMOTES AIDS

ISN'T IT a joke. The Government spends millions of pounds on warning people about the dangers of AIDS then shows at peak viewing time, on Britain's most popular programme, EastEnders, two queers kissing!

EastEnders is an insult to the real people of the East End. The British people who stood fast during the last war and are standing fast again as they see factories and docks close and the tide of coloured immigration creeping further in.

Any self-respecting patriotic Briton has got to turn the brain-washing EastEnders off. Blacks, Asians and queers, twice a week, being passed off as normal Britons, is just too much to stomach.

The FLAG is launching the Switch Off EastEnders campaign to try and get EastEnders out of the top ten programmes by the end of the year.

Make sure you play your part!

The Glory of Britain

What are they doing to Britain
Burying it alive
It used to be fine in Britain
Now it's a fight to survive

What with the Common Market
Pollution and Acid Rain
You've never seen anything like it
Nor will you ever again

The National Debt still owing
Trouble from the IRA
And immigration still growing
But we're not allowed to say

The NF are still fighting for Britain
With plans that they have to restore
The glory of living in Britain
When it's on its feet once more

FLAG SPORT

Don Cockell: Real Bravery

BRAVE BRUNO shouted the television and newspapers alike after West Indian Frank Bruno had been stopped in the fifth round of his fight with Mike Tyson.

The FLAG remembers the bravery of Britain's blacksmith from Battersea, Don Cockell, who on May 16 1955 climbed through the ropes in San Francisco to fight the unbeatable Rocky Marciano.

Marciano had a record of 47 fights, 47 wins with 41 of them inside the distance. The American press derided Cockell claiming he had no right in the ring with Marciano.

The first four rounds were even as Cockell dodged, weaved and turned the swinging Amercian. He was then butted by Marciano which opened a cut on the forehead of Cockell and that was turning point of the fight.

For the next five rounds Cockell was battered, but he refused to give in. He had told his trainer, John Simpson, that whatever happened he was not to throw in the towel.

In the end the fight was stopped in round nine.

The American press then claimed Cockell a hero. He won over the hearts of the American nation by his remarkable bravery.

Remarkable British bravery.

★ OUR VERDICT ON FRANK BRUNO: He did his best, no one can do more than that.

BETTER TWENTY YEARS LATE THAN NEVER

AFTER TWENTY years of discussions on a suitable site, the plans for a £750,000 national sailing centre were finally approved by Weymouth Town Council on 16th February.

However even after this length of time the proposed centre will still be very modest in scale and the proposal has now only received approval by the Town Council because the Royal Yacht Association moved their Olympic Week from Weymouth to Hayling Island.

At this rate we can expect to see Britain win the America's Cup in the imminent future, perhaps within the next two to three centuries!

RED RUGBY COMES TO BRITAIN

WHILE THE International Board demonstrates its lack of guts over South Africa, it is quite happy to welcome a rugby team from the wonderfully democratic and liberal Peoples' Republic of the Soviet Union. A full Soviet side will tour England this coming December. I can almost see the hordes of demonstrators streaming away from Greenham Common and the South African embassy to picket the match demanding the release of political prisoners from the Gulags and the psychiatric hospitals.

EEC THREAT TO NATIONAL

THE GRAND National is under threat from meddling EEC Eurocrats after an EEC report said the race was unnecessarily cruel to animals

The FLAG is a leading campaigner for animal rights and backs the Grand National. Safety at Aintree has improved beyond recognition over the last few years. It's a challenging but fair course.

The EEC's interference is yet another reason why we should Get out of the Common Market!

RUGBY GOES TO SOUTH AFRICA

ONE WAY or another there will be international rugby back in South Africa this year. If the International Board bans a five nations tour then an Australian team will defy the ban and go anyway. The plans for the Australian tour are complete and are only awaiting to see if the ban on the five nations tour is imposed.

Let's just hope that we don't leave it to the Aussies if it comes to the crunch, let's hope that one of the home countries has the guts to send a rebel tour and stuff the International Board.

What About Backing Britain Jackie?

THE NEWS that the former Grand Prix Champion, Jackie Stewart, is back in motor racing sixteen years after hanging up his helmet should be good news for British motor racing.

Unfortunately it's not.

Jackie and his son have created a new Formula Three Team called Paul Stewart Racing which is operating from a base near Egham.

★ The team is backed by the American cigarette firm Camel.

★ It's number one driver is West German, Otto Rensing.

★ The team uses the Japanese Mugen engines

Come on Jackie, fly the flag! Let's have British engines, British drivers and British sponsorship.

BOOKMAKERS FLEECE RACING!

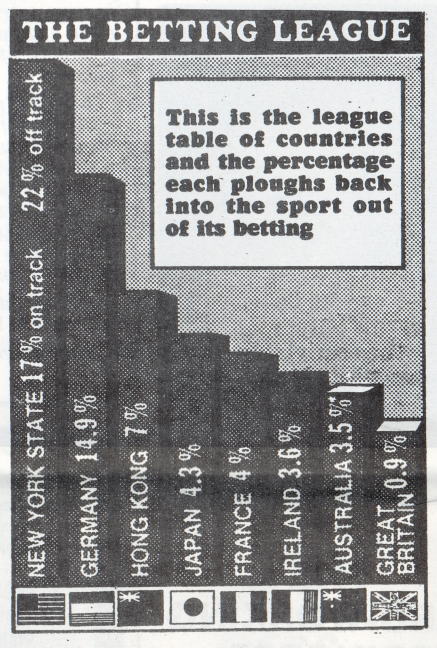
BIG BOOKMAKERS are fleecing the racing industry.

The likes of Labrokes and Hills make a profit in the region of £500 million each year out of racing yet all the Levy Board receives from the bookmakers is £27 million a year.

Great Britain is bottom of the league of countries for bookmakers ploughing back into racing what they get out.

The off-course betting industry should be nationalised and all the returns put back into racing. It's farcical that during the winter horses, owners, trainers and jockeys contest races where the prize money is a measly £800.

It's time the Shylocks of the racing industry were told "You've had your pound of flesh now get out of racing and leave it to the people who really care about the industry".



THE BETTING LEAGUE
This is the league table of countries and the percentage each ploughs back into the sport out of its betting
NEW YORK STATE 17% on track
22% off track
GERMANY 14.9%
HONG KONG 7%
JAPAN 4.3%
FRANCE 4%
IRELAND 3.6%
AUSTRALIA 3.5%
GREAT BRITAIN 0.9%
